Dr. Burleigh

This Wm Young had a hotel and boarding house in or around Fares
Mills

It is my understanding that Wm
Young's ~~was~~ family came from Ireland.
I have a suspicion that they may have gone to the U. S. before moving to Canada.

I realize my information is sketchy but can you possibly identify these people and provide any further information, dates, etc.

Dr. Burleigh,

It is my understanding that Daniel Laster was from England. When he came to Canada he had a farm given to him in Peterborough. He was said to have been a preacher in the small churches.

Also, he sold Laster's Liniment. Later he moved to Roblin.

If you have any information to add it would be appreciated. Thank you.

Dear Sir

Received a letter from my daughter, Mrs Harold Kidd, from Provo, Utah and she was wondering if you are interested in doing some research on the Lasher family. Would you also accept twenty-dollars to start this for her.

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

I had occasion to write you on April 25, 1962 regarding an ancestor whom I believed to have been a United Empire Loyalist. Your most courteous reply informed me that you could not identify that person because I had not supplied dates.

Since that letter in 1962 I have moved to Provo, Utah, married and have two children. My interest in Genealogy, although sometimes pushed to the background, has not waned. I am more anxious and curious than ever to know more about these people.

I understand that you take an interest in the records of the United Empire

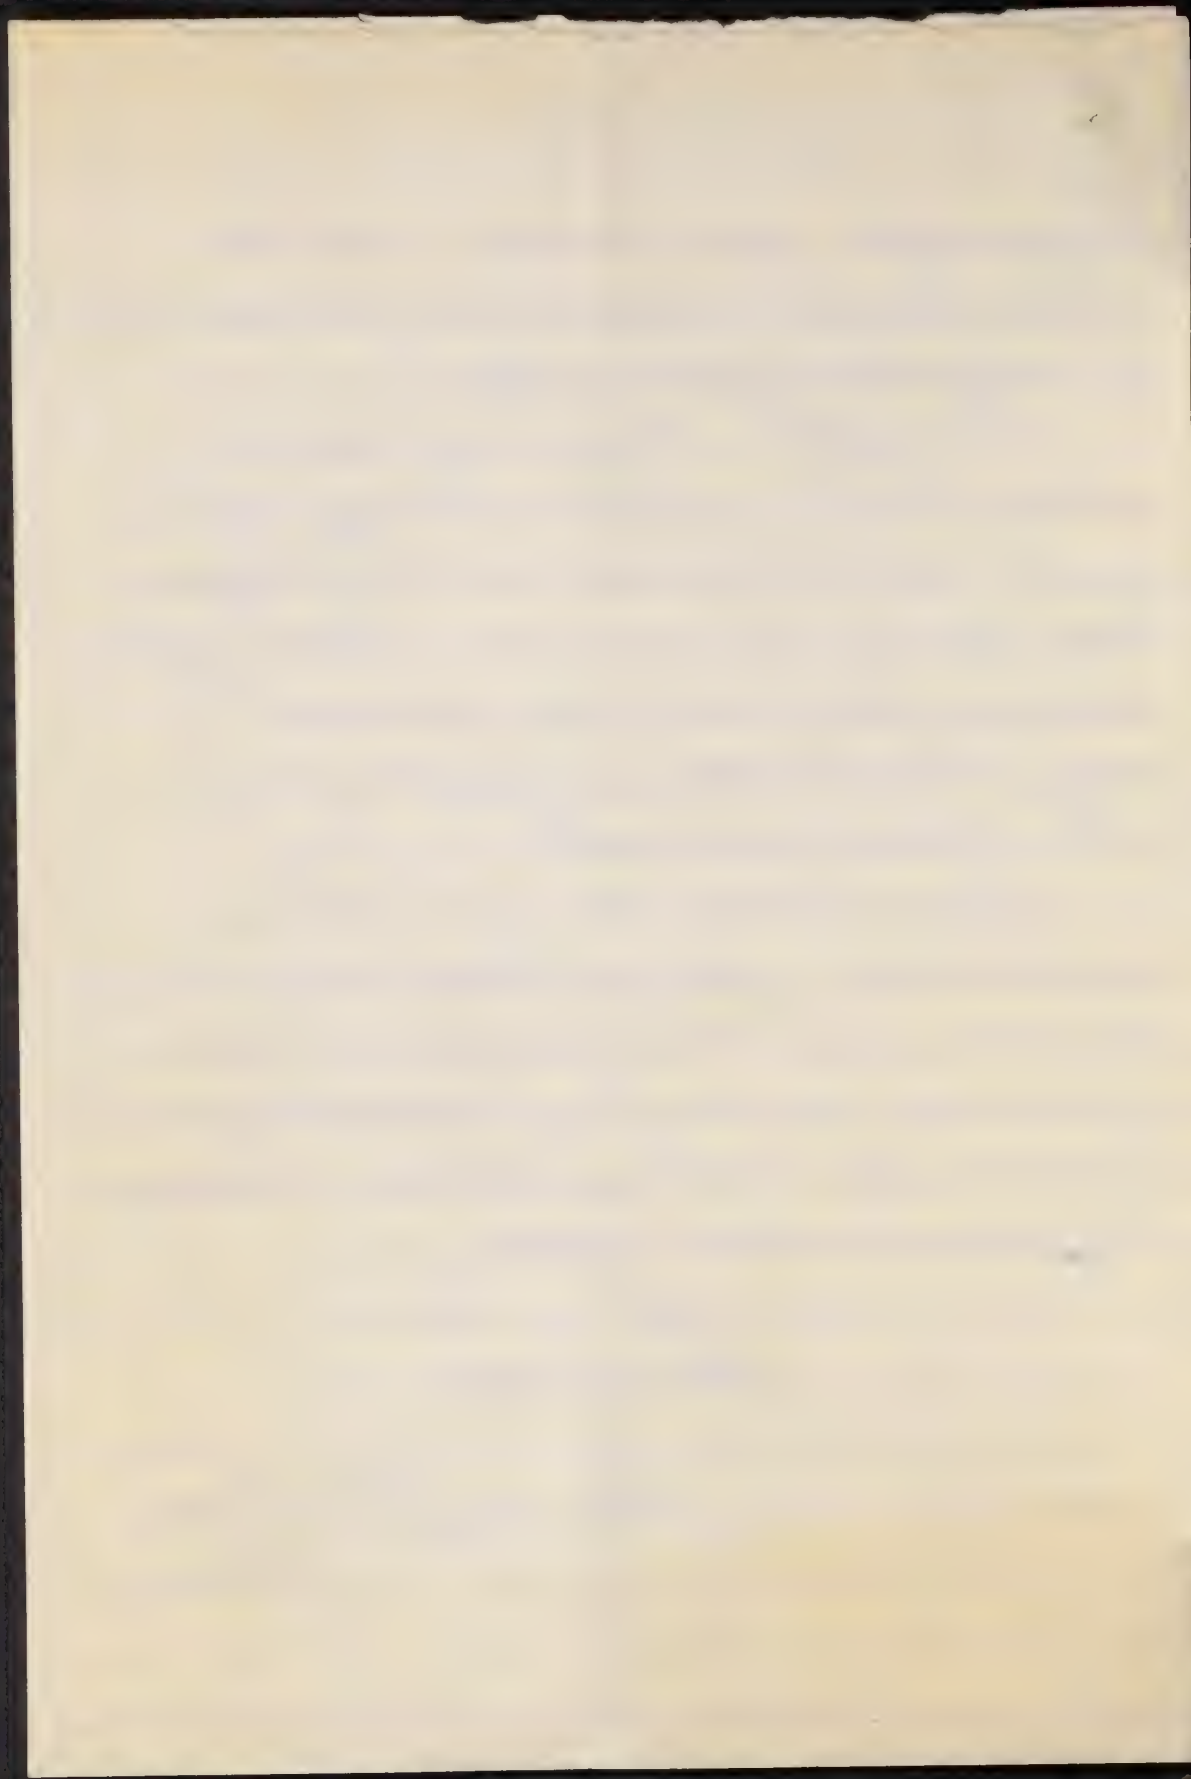

Loyalties and indeed, that you have a sizable collection of records yourself.

On the basis of the sheets I am submitting for your consideration do you think it possible that you could provide me with any additional information on these people?

I would more than appreciate your help in this matter, Dr. Burleigh, and if there is a fee involved I would be more than happy to reimburse you.

Sincerely,

Patricia M. Redd

RALPH LASHER

NAPANEE — Member of a well-known Sillsville family, Ralph Frederick Lasher, of Napanee, died suddenly in the Kingston General Hospital last Thursday after being rushed to hospital by ambulance two days before. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the Tierney funeral home here with interment at Sillsville.

The late Mr. Lasher had been foreman at Charles McConnell's garage here for the past 12 years. He lived at the Richelieu Hotel and was unmarried and in his 46th year. He was predeceased 10 years ago by his mother and last October by his father.

Surviving is a brother, Ross Lasher, of Napanee, and two sisters, Mrs. Earl Ayers (Grace), of Taber, Alta., and Mrs. Ford Rombough (Helen), of Napanee.

Pall-bearers were Charles McConnell, Frank Morton, Clarence Wilkinson, Harold McClelland, Borden Young and William Tibbett, jr.

Flower-bearers were Morley Pascoe, Charles McGarvey, Morley Topping, Gordon E. Hutchison, Fred Pixley and Ed Plane.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church, Napanee.

ROSS LASHER

NAPANEE — Funeral of the late Ross Ernest Lasher, who was killed in an accident at the H. J. McFarland quarry at Roblindale early this week, was held at 3.30 o'clock Friday afternoon from his late residence near Roblin to Roblin Standard Church. Rev. Marshall Babcock, assisted by Rev. James Smith, officiated and interment was at Roblin Cemetery.

A native of Camden Township, the late Mr. Lasher was 56 years of age, a son of the late Walter and Elizabeth Lasher. He had always lived in the district and had been a farmer and quarry worker. A member of the Standard Church, he leaves his wife, the former Hazel Asselstine of Roblin, as well as two daughters, Mrs. Gordon Wagar (Rachel) and Jean, both of Napanee, and two sons, Bruce Lasher of Calgary, Alta., and Douglas Lasher, at home.

Pall-bearers were Charles Storing, Norman Storing, Delmer Seal, Gordon Schermerhorn, Perry Armstrong and Harold South. Flower-bearers were Stanley, Earl and Frank Asselstine and Fred Young.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Try for Fast Canasta Best Policy

"I play with two different groups of Canasta players," writes a Macon reader. "One group follows the official rules.
The other group follows the local rule that a discard that matches a closed canasta may not be picked up except by a natural pair in the hand.

"I find that I have to vary my playing style when I go from one game to the other. What variations would you suggest?"

In general, you should tend to play for a fast out more often under the local rule than under the official rule. If you happen to get a good offence started, the opponents get more and more safe discards as you make each canasta.

By the time you have three canastas, the opponents should usually have enough safe discards to stay out of trouble. If you get fewer than three canastas, of course, you haven't much of

John Shibley, U.S.A.

Having left behind that gruesome token of the majesty of the law, we approach, on a sharp curve, a projection of land anciently known as Shibley's Point, named for John Shibley, first owner of lot No. 5. The first owner, John Shibley, was born in Dutchess County, New York State, and, having espoused the British cause in the American Revolution, came to the Township with the first settlers, in 1784. Having drawn this lot, No. 5, he and his wife, Helena Gordanier, approached their new home on a makeshift raft. Mrs. Shibley, at the prow of the craft, viewed the rugged shore with appraising eye, and, when the raft grounded on the rocks, leaped, axe in hand, into the cold waters and struggled ashore. With a determination worthy of that noble band of Loyalists, she felled the first tree, thus typifying the true pioneer spirit.

A few years after this eventful year John Shibley ~~bought the next lot to the west, No. 4, combining the two into one~~ added to his holdings by purchasing the next lot to the west, No. 4, from his comrade-in-arms, Robert Williams. The homestead, long since disappeared, stood on lot 4 near the empty brick house, ^{in my day} just beyond. Here they continued to live for fifty years, raising a family of twelve children. John Shibley and his wife, Helena, lie buried beneath a clump of lilies standing on the slope to the rear of the old house.

A President's Summer Home.

In 1832, the older Shibleys, having passed to the great beyond, and the younger generation scattered throughout the district, the old farm (lots 4 & 5) was sold to Henry Lasher, an American gentleman from the old South--a moneyed man, so the story goes, and a staunch American. And thereby hangs a fantastic tale of high hopes and frustrated desires--a sidelight on the melodramatic (tense) days of the Rebellion of 1837.

The fight for responsible government under the leadership of Mackenzie was dividing the scattered citizenry of Upper Canada into two widely separated groups, and Lasher, deep down in his heart could not but feel a deep sympathy towards the aims of Mackenzie. And, as the contest, increasing in intensity, flared out in the dying days of 1837 and became open rebellion in the following year, he could see the possibility of American intervention and success to their arms.

Then came inspiration. America will win, and the President will need suitable accommodation in his new State of Upper Canada. This being the case, and the need urgent, Lasher began construction of a mansion on his farm at Bath where fifty years ago had settled a refugee from the wrath of a former rebellion. Of brick it was, faced with native limestone, and erected facing the Upper Gap through which would sail proudly an American man-of-war bearing the President to a summer home in the midst of his new state. Thus was constructed this mansion with its marble fireplaces, ~~its walls~~ its walls bearing frescoed scenes of his native land, its ceilings delicately moulded. From its wide verandah one looked across a spacious lawn beautiful with flowers, and to the high wall and gate to prevent the curious from seeing to much. Orchards flanked the house and extended the width of the farm and north to the brow of the hill. Chief Executive

For the comfort of the President, negro slaves were imported. But alas and alack, the fates decreed otherwise. The rebellion was put down, and the President never came to enjoy the bracing southwesterly breezes that enter by the Upper Gap. The slaves, imported from the Southland to cater to the material comforts of the distinguished guest-to-be, became through necessity 'field-niggers', aged and died, and were buried beside the Loyalists of a half a century before.

And so goes the story as told to me--the sad tale of a mansion prepared for a President who never came. At a later date fire ravaged the stately structure. The kitchen, however, was saved from the holocaust. The old main portion was razed and the bricks used to repair the kitchen. This was used for some years as a dwelling, became uninhabitable, and now stands as you see it--a forlorn relic of high hopes of a century ago.

This passed & a new generation lacking the patriotism of the father, allowed the beauties of the house to fade

In 1832, the old Shillings having passed to the great beyond the younger ones scattered about the T. p. the old farm (lots 4+5) was sold to Henry Larkin, an American gentleman from the old South. A moneyed man so the story goes and a staunch American. And truly ^{scarcely remembered} hangs a tale of a mansion erected ~~to be the summer home of the President~~ for the express purpose of becoming a summer home of the President of the United States.

A fantastic tale of high hopes & frustrated desires — a ~~sub-~~
^{liminal, melodramatic} dramatic sidelight on the ~~intensely~~ stirring days of the Reb. (1837)

Dear Doctor Burleigh: My great-grandmother Charity Lasher married Daniel Phillips. Charity was born Jan 13, 1798, married Jan 7, 1816, and died Dec 5, 1887.
She had a sister Margaret who married Henry Botford.
They all lived in Athens district Leeds County.
There was a Sebastian Lasher who moved with his family to Canada.

We do not know the parents of Charity Lasher but heard from a descendant of

Dear Doctor Burleigh, The assessment rolls of Yonge Township 1811-1819 show one Bastien Lasher with a wife, 2 sons and 2 daughters.

I am trying to connect this Bastien with the Bastien in your district and would like to know when he appeared first up there.

Would your County Registry office show when he owned land there?

Reply 10.7.1964, noting no more information than that supplied in 1960.

Young (Jung) Family of the Mohawk Valley

Part 1

by

Clifford M. Young

Albany, N.Y. April, 1947

(Dr. J. S. Demarest)

Sebastian Loescher was born in the Palatinate, Germany, about 1669 and came to this country in the great Palatine emigration of 1710. He was accompanied by his wife, Maria Elizabeth Kunin, five sons and five daughters; the records indicate that his family was fortunate enough to be on the ship called Widford with Rev. Joshua Kochenthal, who states in his record that he baptized their daughter, Maria Elizabeth Lasher, en route, on June 1, 1710. The family settled at West Camp on the Hudson and there the elders remained.

The Lasher descendants were many, as will be readily appreciated by a survey of the church and cemetery records of Columbia county. An old Lasher Homestead, built in about 1770, now stands at Ameram and is occupied (1942). An historical roadside marker has been placed by the State Historian in front of the house. The poll list of Columbia county showed 57 Lasher voters in 1941. The Laschers have migrated to all parts of the United States and many of them went to the Mohawk Valley and to Pennsylvania. The name "Sebastian" or "Bastian" was handed down through many, if not all, branches, which has made accurate tracing difficult.

Sebastian (1) and Maria Elizabeth had Sebastian (2) born in 1689. This Sebastian Loescher married Elizabeth Livingston at Livingston Manor and they had nine children, according to his will dated June 11, 1775, on file in the records of the Court of Appeals, Albany. He there signs his name "Bastian Lasher" and mentions his wife, Elizabeth Livingston Lasher, and his oldest child, Bastian Jr. Other sons living were Samuel and Marks and the daughters mentioned were Helena, wife of Jung Rormen and Hannah, wife of Peter Bain. Coenret Lasher, brother of Bastian (2) — wife Lydia — was an executor of the will. Bastian willed his wife, among other things, a "Negro wench, slave, named Gin."

A study of the various records and similarity of names, seems to prove that Samuel, baptized April 18, 1762 (Dinlithgo Dutch Reformed), son of Bastian (2) and Elisabeth Livingston, married Magdalena Blass, born March 2, 1765, daughter of Johannes Blass and Gesie Blass. According to the Churchtown Lutheran Church records Samuel (1) and Lena had Sebastian Lasher (3), born August 3, 1788, baptized Aug. 25, 1788, sponsors Henry Stahl and Elisabeth Blass. This Sebastian Lasher (3) married Veltje (Sophia) Phoebe Vosburgh of Hillsdale, Columbia County. She was generally known as "Phoebe." This Sebastian and Phoebe were the grand parents of Irene Lasher Young. The Churchtown record shows the following:

"Sebastian Loescher (3) and Veltje Vorburg, Samuel born August 8, 1810, baptized Sept. 17, 1810, sponsors Samuel Loescher and - - - - Van Dusen."

Dear Dr. Burleigh,

Sorry to bother you, but this is an S.O.S. Mr. Chard keeps sending me genealogical letters from the national office of the UEL, and I have one now which I really can't do a thing about. The woman has applied for membership, and I think you are the person who could tell us most easily if she is eligible.

She lives in Thunder Bay. Her name is Miss Anne Cochran.
She is descended from Peter and Aurillia Davy
Henrietta Davy Lasher
Emilie Lasher Boswell (Winnipeg)
Jessie Boswell Cochran, her mother

Just a line or two should do! Thank you.

Sincerely,

Dear Dr. Burléigh,

I will be most interested in seeing your articles on twenty-five loyalists if and when they are published! What a struggle it is to get local history printed in this country and marketed! But I think the climate is beginning to change; I hear many rumblings in genealogical circles, and the UGS is beginning to have some power, growing at the rate they are, and becoming solvent!

You never commented on my book. I assume you may have been disappointed, as I was, in the format. I have corrected by hand over 450 copies, and of course, have also discovered two or three errors of my own--one, most disconcertedly, in connection with a Carscallen. Then we have found many incomplete copies and are now having all mail orders go through my hands. Please let me know if yours is a defective copy and I'll change it.

Sincerely,

Lucas C. Burleigh
